

Beef, Veal and Lamb Report

Beef output last week declined .7% but was 3.4% better than the same week last year. Slaughter ready cattle supplies are expected to seasonally decline during the next several weeks. The USDA is forecasting Q1 beef production to be 2.1% bigger than this year but the smallest for any quarter for 2018. Forward beef sales for delivery 22-90 days out rose to a three-week high and were heavily focused on end cuts like briskets. We note that brisket, rounds and ground beef are pricing in the forward market flat to slightly above the existing price levels. Stronger end cut beef price appreciation is anticipated during January. Ground beef prices could be firm as well.
